ABOUT THIS COURSE

Everyone deserves an equal level of care quality and support to meet their individual needs, but some people could have a disadvantage due to their background and culture.

Care workers must be sensitive to people's needs and have the confidence to discuss individuals' differences to find out how they can best offer care and support.

Standard 4 of the Care Certificate requires carers to:

- Understand the importance of equality and inclusion
- Work in an inclusive way
- Access information, advice and support about diversity, equality and inclusion

Help ensure that your staff show compliance towards the Equality Act 2010 with our CPD Accredited Equality & Diversity in Care Training course.

This course works alongside our 14 other awareness courses that make up the Care Certificate Standards.

You can access our free worksheet that has been designed to accompany our online Equality & Diversity in Care Training course. In each section, there is a box for you to tick when you have watched the relevant slide in our course. You can also take notes that will help you during your practical assessment at work.

This course equips learners with the knowledge that's required to be put into practice in the workplace, whereby they can do the 'practical' part of their training, followed by having the Care Certificate supplied to them by their management as they meet the required standards. These courses provide part of training but practical training is still required to obtain the care certificate.
