ABOUT THIS COURSE

Every member of staff legally requires some kind of Fire Awareness Training.

This online eLearning programme is an effective and hassle-free way to ensure that you follow current legislation - as well as providing an easily accessible record of staff training. It's suitable for any workplace, in any industry sector and provides an engaging way for your staff to complete their Fire Safety Training.

Keep your workplace safe and learn about the risks that fire poses to health and safety. You'll learn about the nature of fire and what it takes for a fire to start and how it can easily travel through a building. This course will also introduce you to fire signage, allow you to participate in interactive fire extinguisher training, and gain an informed overview of evacuation procedures. You'll also learn how to react in the case of an emergency and learn which procedures should already be in place at your place of work.

With thousands of companies across the UK and Europe already using the iHASCO Fire Awareness training, this is one of our best-selling courses and is crucial for any workplace. You can request a quick online demonstration or register for a Free Trial at any time!

This Fire Awareness Course can be used in conjunction with our Fire Warden Training - every organisation should have at least one 'responsible person'.
